Greetings friends of AWA,

The Arkansas Waiver Association is excited to return to action with the 2023 AWA Conference: Building Better Opportunities at the Hot Springs Convention Center, August 16-18. With everything going on in the world of home and community-based services today, we look forward to hosting an action-packed three-day event that highlights the best in our field, facilitates opportunities for learning and developing new skills, and empowers a greater degree of leadership from people receiving services and the Direct Support Professionals who serve them. We're excited to bring hundreds of folks together to learn innovative ways to navigate home and community-based services, to build and strengthen the community committed to the inclusion of everyone, and to enjoy the creativity, entertainment, and opportunities we all have to share.

We invite you and your organization to be a part of this long anticipated event. I'm including a sponsorship breakdown. However, if you and your organization would like to discuss support opportunities outside of these sponsorship levels, we invite you to reach out. As with all things, we're committed to ensuring everyone has an opportunity to be included in our important work.

I can't wait to see you in August.

Respectfully,

Dr. Syard Evans
President

About Arkansas Waiver Association

The Arkansas Waiver Association is a not-for-profit corporation guided by a Board of Directors who serve without compensation of any kind. We seek to improve the quality of life for individuals with a developmental disability and their families through active advocacy, open communications, and an exchange of professional ideas. The AWA Board is comprised of individuals who receive Waiver services, families of individuals who receive Waiver services, professionals who work for developmental disability community providers, and other advocates of home and community-based services. Our membership is from the same groups.
